What's New With ORB 2.0

Participants

- To log into the new ORB, head to 'www.onlinerecordbook.org'.

- Enter your login information (email address, and password) into the appropriate fields on the left hand side of the screen.

- Hit the 'Login' button.

- Fields that weren't mandatory before might now be. We believe that you may be prompted to fill-in missing information when you log-in to ORB 2.0 for the first time. In particular, you should have the following information on hand:

  o The names of your assessors
  o Your assessors' email addresses o A phone number for your account's profile page that your Award Leader can reach you at.

- There is a new algorithm that is much more flexible when calculating percentages, however it still requires consistency. One hour a week, up to four hours every four weeks, is still the standard.

- It is recommended that you upload a profile picture - if your Award Leader is attempting to contact you, a profile picture helps them know they are reaching out to the right participant.
